

Cover letter

Dear Sir,

I am writing to you looking forward to having a chance for occupying a position in your Firm, as I'm an experienced finance professional, with a record of good academic and professional performances; having acquired a diverse and in depth professional work experience from working with Bader Al-Bazie & Co. (a member firm of RSM International) for approximately 9 years, Bader Al Abduljader & Partners (a member firm of Russell Bedford International) for 2 years and Ernst & Young for approximately four years.

Serving at these chief positions has honed my leadership, team management, organizational, problem solving, analyzing, convincing and communicative skills, while underlining my ability to take initiative and work with a diverse set of people. Having developed effective interpersonal and presentation skills, I also enjoy working in teams. My performance over the years is representative of my determination, hard work and goal oriented attitude – all of which are essential constituents to the position I hold today.

I now look forward to a career opportunity that is commensurate with my skills and qualification and can provide me with a competitive working environment coupled with the opportunity of career growth in the organization.

My interest in a position in your Firm has motivated me to forward my resume for your consideration, as so that I can further develop my knowledge and also to employ my acquired expertise to serve the Firm's mission.

Describing in the resume, my past experience as well as my skills involving both reporting and personal skills.

I would be delighted to meet you in a personal interview. This would be a chance for me to convince you that my skills and energy will be an asset to your Firm.

Thank you in advance for your generous consideration. I am looking forward to hearing from you soon. I can be reached at my mobile number, or by e-mail indicated in the C.V.

*Yours sincerely,
Tamer Abd El-Rahman*
